HOSKIN FARINA & KAMPF SELECTS WORLDOX® DOCUMENT MANAGEMENT SYSTEM

OUTLOOK INTEGRATION, DOCUMENT RIGHTS SECURITY AND SMOOTH CONVERSION FROM LSSDOCS HELPS COLORADO FIRM BUILD EFFICIENCY AT THE RIGHT PRICE

RIDGEWOOD, NJ – June 22, 2010 – World Software Corporation® (www.worldox.com) today announced Grand Junction, Colo.-based law firm Hoskin Farina & Kampf, P.C., (www.hfak.com) has purchased and installed the Worldox® Document Management System (DMS), allowing for firm-wide sharing, searching and management of documents, e-mails and scanned images.

Hoskin Farina began looking for a new DMS in early fall 2009. At the time, the firm was running LSSDocs' DMS. According to Firm Administrator Tony Lozano, Worldox provides improvements in the areas of Outlook integration and folder structure, document rights and security control, and overall interface.

Hoskin Farina researched three DMS offerings: Interwoven (now Autonomy), Document Locator and Worldox. The firm eventually decided on Worldox because it is the most feature-rich product available for the best price. Also, Lozano has great confidence in DCNC (www.dncinc.com), the Denver-based Worldox systems integrator run by Wayne Rysdahl that presented the software to Hoskin Farina and ultimately handled the installation.

Lozano notes, "Worldox is a great DMS for our firm. The document security, seamless integration with Outlook, and familiar interface makes the software indispensable to us. Worldox is easy to use; it makes sense, and affords us greater efficiency, which benefits our clients. Our conversion to Worldox was the smoothest document management migration I have experienced, and the training that DCNC provided was excellent."

Rysdahl says, "We are very pleased to have done this Worldox conversion and implementation for Hoskin Farina. Our partnership with Worldox allows us to provide our customers with a world-class DMS, and the technology is serving the firm's needs extremely well."

According to Worldox President Ray Zwiefelhofer, “We are thrilled to have Hoskin Farina as a customer and applaud DCNC on a job well done. World Software is proud to be the DMS of choice for 3500+ law firms of all sizes, and continues its commitment to excellence in product performance and customer service.”
