Allen, Allen, Allen & Allen Selects and Implements Worldox® Document Management Software

Richmond, VA Law Firm Converts to Worldox from Autonomy's iManage

RIDGEWOOD, NJ – November 9, 2010 – World Software Corporation® \(www.worldox.com\) today announced that Allen, Allen, Allen & Allen \(www.allenandallen.com\), a law firm in Richmond, VA, has selected Worldox as its Document Management System (DMS).

A personal injury firm with approximately 125 employees including 23 attorneys, Allen and Allen recently migrated its documents and e-mails to Worldox from its previous document management software, Autonomy's iManage.

The firm's IT Manager Tommy Coe also looked at NetDocuments, Xerox DocuShare and a few other options and ultimately selected Worldox. Coe says, "We felt that Worldox was stronger for e-mail management, document security and ease of use for employees, and it needed less software and hardware than iManage had required. With Worldox, our administration is simplified, our long-term costs lower, and our application integration more seamless."

Laurie Odgers of Philadelphia-based O2 Consulting handled the iManage-to-Worldox conversion. Odgers explains, "Worldox is an ideal fit for Allen and Allen. The software is more manageable for their IT staff and their users will appreciate Worldox's intuitive interface."

Worldox President Ray Zwiefelhofer remarks, "We are glad that Allen and Allen chose to convert to Worldox from iManage. Laurie Odgers of O2 did an excellent job presenting the software to them as a viable option, and has handled the installation with equal dedication."
