Omega Legal Systems, Inc. and Worldox Announce Alliance

PHOENIX—February 27, 2009—Phoenix-based Omega Legal Systems, Inc. announced a new integration between its Omega Legal^{VX} software and the WorldoxTM Document Management System (DMS) from World Software Corporation®. Omega provides mid-to-large size law firms a revolutionary time, billing and accounting software suite designed to improve efficiency, productivity and profitability. The Worldox Document Management System organizes, controls, describes, indexes and categorizes e-mail content and electronic documents.

The alliance between Worldox and Omega streamlines the firm's workflow by automatically populating Worldox with the required client/matter information from Omega Legal^{VX}. The integration between these two products saves valuable time by eliminating the need for repetitive data entry.

Don Gall, Founder and President of Omega Legal Systems, Inc., said "Our alliance with an industry leader like Worldox offers our clients another strategic product integration to streamline their front and back office operations. At Omega, we are committed to listening to our clients and providing leading-edge financial and practice management software solutions in response to their needs, and the Worldox integration reinforces this commitment."

Tom Burke, President and CEO of World Software Corporation, said, "We anticipate that our clients will be very excited about our integration with Omega, which continues our tradition of creating seamless integration with our clients critical applications. The link between these two products will certainly benefit our mutual customer base."
