Smith Currie Law Firm Implements Worldox Document Management Software New Technology is Powerful, Feature-Rich and Effortless to Maintain

Glen Rock, NJ– January 20, 2012 – World Software Corporation announced today that Atlanta-based Smith, Currie & Hancock LLP has successfully installed its award-winning Worldox Document Management System (DMS).

The firm chose to convert to Worldox from its previous DMS, Autonomy's iManage system, for a variety of reasons including Worldox's powerful and feature-rich capabilities, email management, excellent technical support, and less expensive hardware requirements.

According to Smith Currie Director of Information Technology Steve Swaney, "After looking at several DMS options including our incumbent solution, Autonomy, and NetDocuments, we selected Worldox because it was a powerful platform that ran well, scaled to fit our firm's seven offices, and made the transition seamless and easy. The conversion was done over a single weekend, and the software is extremely reliable and user-friendly."

Swaney was assisted in the implementation by Rob Nagy, World Software's Professional Services Manager and Worldox Systems Integrator David Moon of Lan-Tech, Inc.
