For Immediate Release:

World Software Expands Management Team

Ridgewood, NJ, September 1, 2009

World Software Corporation®, a leading provider of document management systems, announces the arrival of Ari Mezzoiuso, who has accepted the position of Director of Operations. Ari's role will encompass the day-to-day management of the company's technology and support operations. Ari has worked in technology management roles over the last 15 years, supporting help desk/support operations and corporate infrastructure development.

Chris Dohnert - a twenty year World Software veteran - has assumed the role of Senior Product Manager. Chris will be responsible for the product lifecycle of Worldox, World Software's flagship product.

Rob Nagy has been appointed to the role of Professional Services Manager. Rob has more than twenty years of technology experience in the professional services sector; he will be responsible for growing and educating the Worldox reseller community, for third party partnerships, and for ensuring consistency in Worldox customer installations.

Ray Zwiefelhofer, World Software's Executive Vice President, stated, "We are delighted to expand our management team. For more than twenty years, Worldox has been the document management choice for more than 3000 customers. Expanding our talent will allow us to take the company to new levels over the next twenty years."
